The Creation of the Modern Icon (1970)
The precise image of the stylized woman, arms raised to the sky in a curve and bearing a spiral on her belly, was created by the artist Abby Willowroot in 1978.

The Design: She merged the forms of prehistoric "Venus" statues (like the Venus of Willendorf) with the symbol of the spiral.

The Raised Arms: This is the posture of invocation, called "orante." It captures lunar or celestial energy and brings it back to Earth.

The Spiral on the Belly: It marks the center of creation, the seat of life and intuitive power.

The USA’s race of people Spiral divine universal Mother

However, over time, versions of the Spiral Goddess presented a religious teaching that can be found in all kingdoms, then a feminine form appeared, and since then it is always the same face that is produced, a sign that there is a divine person.

Representations of the Spiral Goddess multiply, and over time a face becomes clearer, clearly showing that there is a divine person.

It is a great miracle to witness the birth of a new kingdom for a race of people.

For 2,400,000 years, the races of humankind that have been born have benefited from a divine realm that recounts the universe in order to celebrate life and the universe, the cosmos, galaxies, and star systems, including our own, our stars, the sun, our Earth, planet and its ecosystem, as well as the process of creation and evolution of creatures. There was a time when a migration occurred following the discovery of the American continent by Europeans (Europeans did not know this continent before) and also by the Christian impulse which commanded the then Christian nations to colonize the planet in order to organize the administration of his Christ, convinced then by a Chapter title written after the final period (anathema) as lord of lords king of kings and an extrapolation of the vision of Stephen the Hebrew concluding that he had been made equal to his Father the spirit lord god of Islam, former god of the Hebrews and only inhabitant of the kingdom of the 7 archangels 12 seraphim and 12 cherubim to be a creature God of manifestation of the creator of the universe 3rd phase Big Bang manifested principle Father of molecular matter at the time of the birth phase of heaven and Earth (molecular matter) the very high of the manifested phase of the kingdom of Angels. A vast emigration then occurred, altering the human face of the American continent. The emigrants born in Europe were European, but the next generation

On the universal divine cosmic tree, transcending the kingdoms, stands on one of the branches the universal divine cosmic tree of the human race of the USA at the heart of the divine universal Spiral Lorddess called Spiral Goddess (which is slightly wrong because she is a queen of the universe not a goddess; the gods and goddesses evolve in her like her internal mechanism). It is the Kingdom of the people of the USA that emerges from the birth of this people.

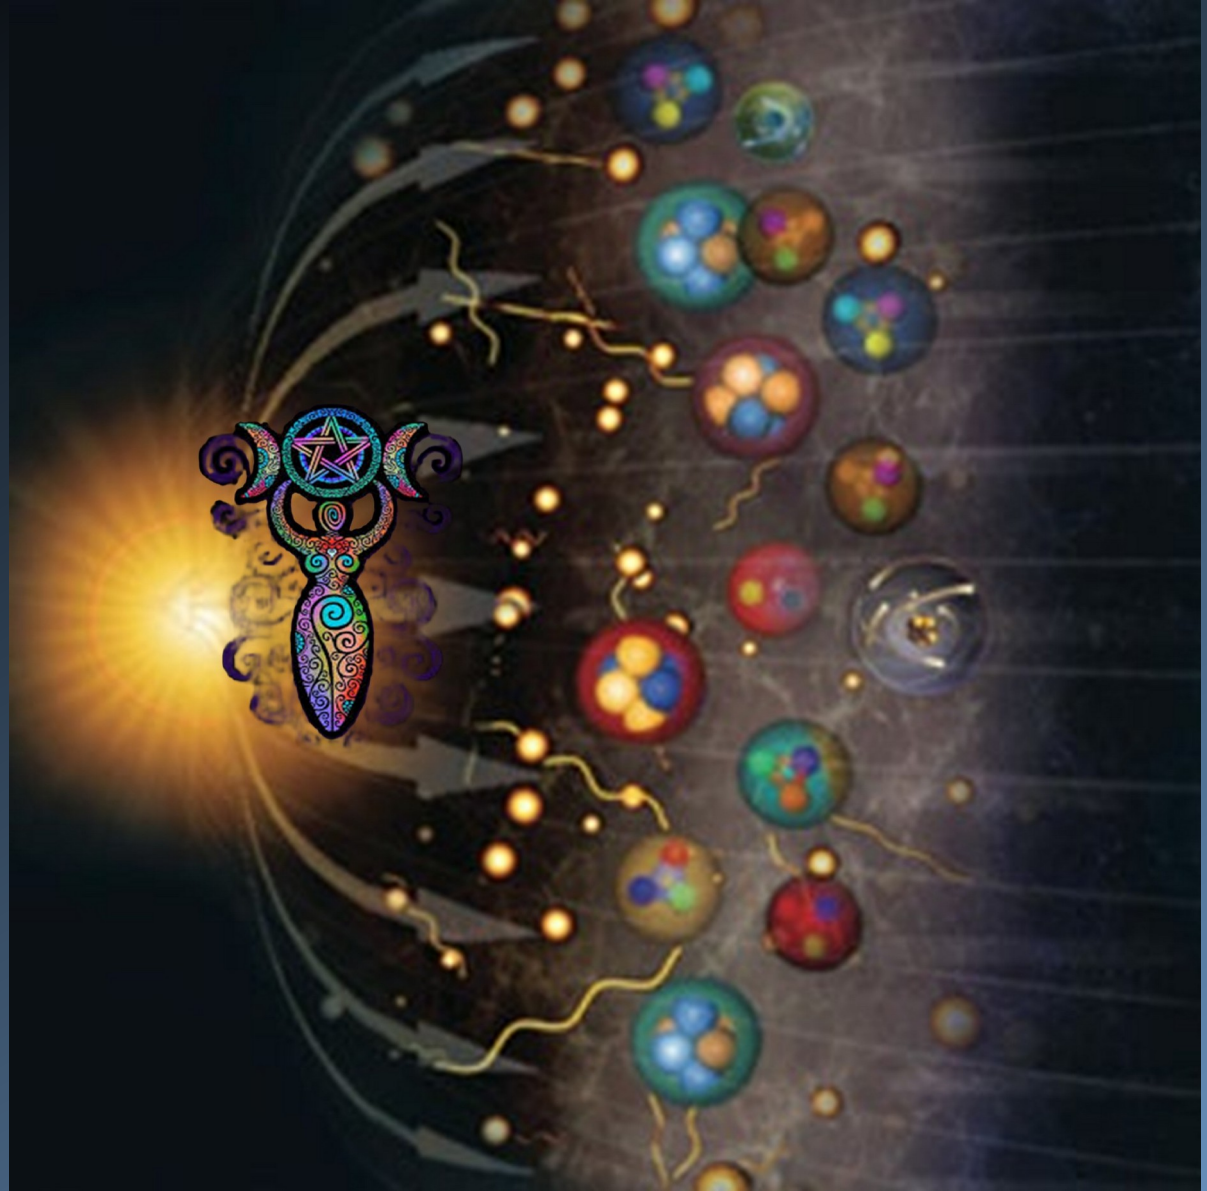
The Divine Universal Spiral Lorddess expands at the moment of creation of all matter and antimatter in the cosmos.

It is the universe in 3 worlds: infra/supra/ and mixed universe, where parities interact with each other in the infra and in the supra, like the waters of the universe. The waters of the infra, the brain of the universe, are joined by the waters above, where the divine universal scalar energy transmutes into all forms of matter, creating the mixed waters at the level of the cosmic bubble. Similarly, the common divine nature and the oscillation interact in the infra and supra, where emptiness and opulence also interact in both the infra and supra universes. Finally, the night, the low densities, and the darkness, the high densities, interact in both the infra and supra universes. The fruit of the interactions of parities in the universe, the Divine Spiral, universal lordess, takes form in the cosmos at the mixed level of the universe. All matter is born thus: spins, quarks, leptons, hadrons (gluons and mesons), but also photons, gluons, and other particles. exotic antiparticles the phase with the pentagram symbol symbol of the birth of matter, antimatter and light.



Big ang phase 3 :

Borning of moleculare earth matter

and Sky

The non moleculare aspect of the cosmos

Expansion stagnates at 300,000 light-years without moving during the third phase, the Big Bang.

Then, the universe, the Divine Universal Spiral Lorddess, opens the limits of the cosmos by combining protons and neurtons into nucleons, and then nucleons with electrons into molecules, freeing up space in the mixed level of the universe, the level where the cosmic bubble is located (which is not the universe itself).

This space is used to channel photons into a flux and direct them outwards from the universe and the cosmos, thus freeing up space in the cosmic volume.

This space is what allows the arms of Black Matter to move, producing the expansion after the Big Bang and the birth and subsequent growth of the cosmic vacuum.

Before, there was no vacuum at all in the cosmic volume.

The Light Get out from the cosmos limits like the sun star on rising

Then the light increase to reach its Zenith like the sun star on Zenith

And finaly the light decrease to deaspear and leave aonly darkness like the sunset on twillight

After Big bang

After the Big Bang, the universe, the divine Spiral, universal lordship, shapes the cosmos. It expands the volume of the cosmos, giving birth to and increasing cosmic void. This reduces the protection against collapse that dominated the entire Big Bang process, a deity often depicted as a turtle. Then, in the primordial nebula, a series of collapses begins, forming all molecular matter and giving birth to the starry sky, all the stars of the cosmos, along with some black holes.

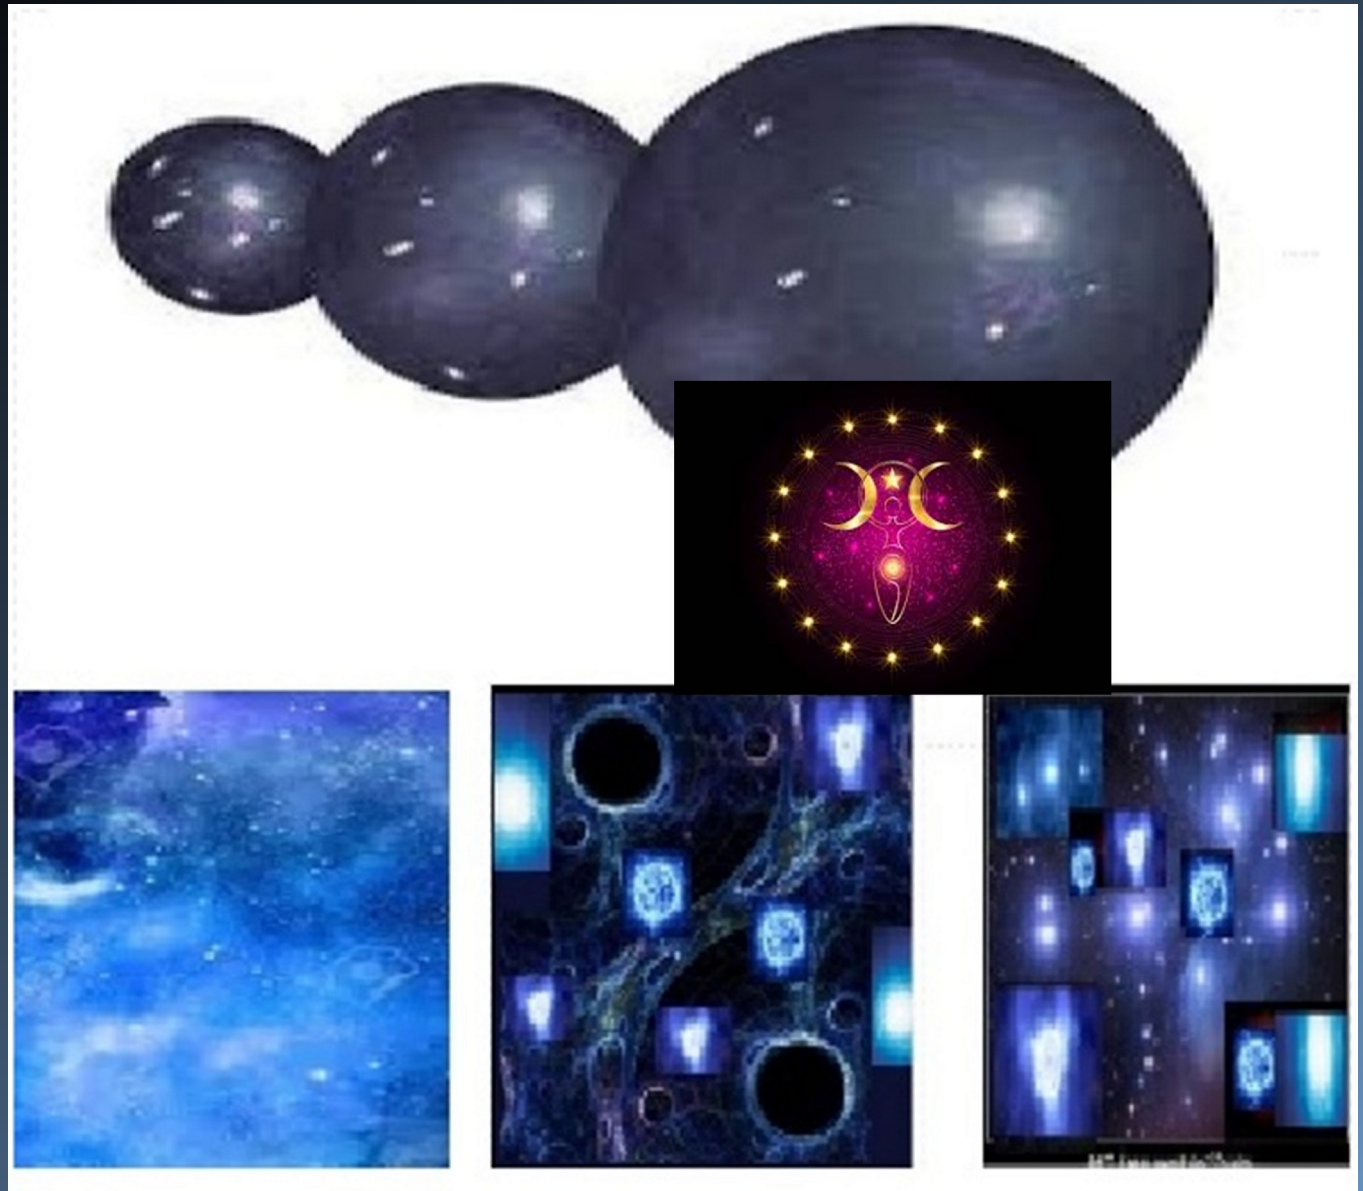
Early galaxies



After the Big Bang, the universe, the divine Spiral, universal lordess, shapes the cosmos. She uses star clusters and black holes to build gravitational poles and organize matter around them into galaxies.

Then, within galaxies, the universe diversifies its molecular heritage, which until then had been essentially helium and hydrogen.

The universe, the Divine Spiral, universal mother expanding, uses stars and stellar fusion to diversify primordial molecules into all known diversity.

This is what will allow the subsequent generations of stars to be born, along with planets.

The expanding universe, the Divine Universal Spiral Lorddess, then shapes the nature ecosystem in the cosmos, developing biochemical life and its evolution—bacteria, plants, animals—and cognitive life on this planet, the human species.
